

Scavolini

Scavolini has collaborated with some of the world's leading designers, so it is no surprise the Italian manufacturer knows how to pick the perfect partner. Joining forces with Diesel Living it has created the Diesel Social Kitchen, fusing the 'casual living' Diesel lifestyle with Scavolini's many years of kitchen know-how. The upshot is a 'lived-in' look: think wood, steel and glass, with metal and special treatments used to create an aged aesthetic. Top marks to the oak cabinet doors which provide a natural, knotted look and feel. scavolini.us

Scavolini

If you or your clients have already discovered the joys of a Scavolini kitchen, you can now spread the love and try something Scavolini in the bathroom. The Italian manufacturer has been producing bathroom products in collaboration with Studio Castiglia Associati since 2012. New to the UK is Font, resplendent in turquoise and comprising wall-mounted bases in glass and lacquered open-shelf units. Resting on the 52-cm deep polished glass top is the Ibo washbasin in white Carrara marble, also Scavolini. scavolini.us